PROFESSIONAL DISPOSITIONS .......................................................... 49
Welcome

We are glad you have chosen to enter one of the Teacher Education programs at The University of Mississippi. We wish you success and offer support in your goal to further your education. It is our desire that your time spent here is both challenging and rewarding.

The Teacher Education Graduate Handbook was written to help answer questions and/or address concerns that may arise during your graduate program. We realize that each candidate’s program is unique, but it is hoped that this handbook will help guide you in your endeavors. Program requirements and policies are included in this document and all candidates need to become familiar with these. This handbook may not answer all your questions about each of the graduate programs. You may be referred to the Graduate Catalog, The M Book, or other publications. While it is your responsibility to see that all requirements are met, faculty and staff will be glad to assist you and to answer any questions you may have.

The Graduate Catalog has specific information regarding admission policies, academic regulations, and requirements for degrees. Candidates are responsible for being aware of and adhering to the policies and procedures set forth in the Graduate Catalog. Policies and procedures are subject to change; therefore, always refer to the most current handbook and notices posted on our web page.

Again, welcome to the Department of Teacher Education. It is our sincere wish that we provide you with a rigorous and challenging program as you prepare for significant positions in your chosen specialization.

School of Education (SOE)

The School of Education's professional programs operate from a well-developed strategic action plan that first evolved in 1985. The plan has been revisited and updated continually. The plan aligns purposefully with the university’s goals and builds upon essential knowledge and skills, research findings and sound professional practice. The knowledge base for each of the School’s academic programs serves as a foundation of the school's conceptual framework, “Educators as Reflective Professionals.”

The school's conceptual framework, the mission and vision statements attest to the commitment of faculty and staff, whose dedication and scholarly pursuits inspire curricular models and bring a spirit of innovation. All this translates into an outstanding education for students in the School, who graduate as reflective professionals with the knowledge, skills and dispositions to facilitate lifelong learning in an interactive and diverse society. In harmony with this conceptual framework, the strategic plan continues to be modified as stakeholders revisit issues annually. The School seeks to make the plan a dynamic document based on current research and societal needs. The School of Education is proud of its legacy and optimistic about the future.

The School of Education's theme, "Educators as Reflective Professionals", captures the mission and vision of the unit and offers direction for systematic and continuous review and improvement of its professional development programs.

Mission

The mission of the School of Education is to prepare and engage reflective professionals who create, use and share knowledge in partnership with individuals and communities to serve Mississippi and beyond. (Approved November 7, 2014)

Vision

We imagine the transformation of individuals and communities to advance educational equity and excellence through innovative practice by professionals who lead and inspire others. (Approved October 10, 2014)

“Teachers as Facilitators” Knowledge Base

Each graduate program offered by the Department of Teacher Education is built on eight themes that embody the idea that teachers are facilitators, whether they are operating at the master, specialist, or doctoral level. Themes are aligned with the conceptual framework of the School of Education and its mission. The themes are reflected in all program courses where candidates are engaged in reading, research, discussions, simulations, reflection, and application intended to help them grow in their abilities as professionals.

T -- Thinking and problem solving: A teacher uses knowledge of the learning process and fosters thinking skills and complex conceptual learning as well as more basic skills and learning.

E -- Equality and respect for diversity: A teacher develops an understanding of and a respect for individual and cultural diversity.

A -- Appropriate teaching strategies: A teacher understands how to effectively use a variety of instructional strategies appropriate to his/her discipline to maximize student learning.

C -- Communication and cooperation: A teacher understands the nature of schools as a part of a social system. A teacher communicates sensitively with learners, their families, professionals, and others in a manner which includes an understanding of the special vocabulary specific to his/her discipline.

H -- Human development and curriculum: A teacher understands the continuum of human growth and development and the nature of different discipline structures. A teacher implements an appropriate and conceptually spiraling curriculum.

E -- Esteem, autonomy, and lifelong learning: A teacher engages learners in active, self-monitoring roles and develops personal standards and career aspirations. A teacher develops in his/her students' expectations of becoming life-long learners and professional educators.

R -- Relevance: social and global: A teacher relates experiences in the school to critical issues in our local and global society.

S -- Supervision, management, and guidance: A teacher effectively supervises and guides learners and utilizes effective techniques for classroom management and behavior.
Expectations for Candidates

Work Ethic

Candidates should dedicate nine or more hours per week for each course taken. Entering a graduate program requires a substantial commitment of time and energy. Candidates must be prepared to spend time not only in class but also outside of class reading, writing, and conducting research. While it is a demanding experience, its purpose is to broaden the candidate’s knowledge and awareness of the complexity of education and society.

Forms of Expression

This is a program that prepares educators as reflective professionals; therefore, candidates are expected to use standard and effective forms of oral and written communication. Additionally, all papers and projects submitted to the faculty, unless otherwise stated, should follow the form and style documented in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th Edition. Finally, since much of what classroom teachers do is verbal in nature, the ability to communicate effectively in this form is essential. Candidates are encouraged to attend workshops conducted by the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs and the Writing Center as a means for improving these skills.

Personal Attributes and Professional Dispositions

Teachers should develop and model the dispositions that are expected of professional educators. Our accrediting agency, the Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP), defines dispositions as the values, commitments, and professional ethics that influence behaviors toward students, families, colleagues, and communities and affect student learning, motivation, and development as well as the educator’s own professional growth and development. Dispositions are guided by beliefs and attitudes related to values such as caring, fairness, honesty, responsibility and social justice. Our faculty expects all candidates to exhibit dispositions characteristic of a professional educator; therefore, we take the responsibility of assessing and enhancing the dispositions of our candidates. Listed below are dispositions the Department of Teacher Education have identified as most important to an educator. They are aligned with the Mississippi Educator Code of Ethics.

- The teacher candidate protects confidential information concerning students and/or colleagues unless the law requires disclosure. (MCoE 9)

- The teacher candidate demonstrates maturity and sound judgment in all interactions with peers, university and P-12 personnel, and parents. (MCoE 5)
The teacher candidate follows all university and P-12 school policies including but not limited to policies for alcohol, drug, tobacco, and social media use. (MCoE 6)

The teacher candidate exemplifies honesty and integrity (honesty, tact, and fairness) with all stakeholders during his/her time in the program. (MCoE 2)

The teacher candidate accepts constructive criticism in a positive manner. (MCoE 1)

The teacher candidate provides fair and equitable opportunities for all P-12 students in a non-discriminatory manner. (MCoE 4)

The teacher candidate maintains a professional relationship with all students both inside and outside professional settings. (MCoE 4)

Candidates who fail to show acceptable dispositions during their graduate program in classes, coursework assignments, interactions with the course instructor and peers, and other situations related to the graduate program will be cited with a Disposition Infraction. This infraction will be logged into the SOE Assessment System by the faculty member. If a candidate receives a Disposition Infraction, a Disposition Committee will convene a meeting to discuss interventions for improvement or dismissal from the program. The Chair of the Department of Teacher Education will form a disposition infraction committee, which will not include the faculty member who completed the disposition infraction form. At the end of this meeting, the participant may be counseled, issued conditions for continuing in the program, or dismissed from the program. All disciplinary documentation must be recorded in the SOE assessment system by the faculty member or program coordinator.

Dismissal from the Program

In the “Expectations for Candidates” section of this handbook, personal attributes and professional dispositions are discussed. Please review that section for more specific information on this important topic. Also, it is strongly suggested that candidates review the policy statements in the University of Mississippi’s M-Book. While the M-Book is a compilation of many different policies, it is an abbreviated guide of University policies and not a complete digest of all policies. For a complete listing of policies, please visit the University of Mississippi Policy Directory.

Although not limited to the following, a student may be subject to dismissal from the program for any, or all, of the reasons listed below:

- Failure to meet any conditions specified at admission (for conditionally admitted students);
- Failure to maintain the required cumulative GPA (3.0) set forth in the Graduate Catalog;
- Receipt of a grade of C in more than one graduate level course (i.e. upon the receipt of the second C);
- Receipt of a grade lower than a C (i.e. C-, D, or F) in any graduate level course;
- Engagement in behavior that is deemed inappropriate for effective school educators. This includes failure to demonstrate appropriate personal attributes and professional
• Failure to respond appropriately to supervision;
• Violating policies and procedures established by the University, the Department of Teacher Education, or those established by a job or field experience site;
• Failure to pass the comprehensive examination after two administrations;
• Violations of standards of honesty, such as cheating, plagiarism, or knowingly furnishing false information; and
• Failure to successfully complete the dissertation and the dissertation defenses after two opportunities to defend.

In the case of dismissal, the candidate will be provided reasonable assistance to facilitate transition from the program to another academic program if deemed acceptable and feasible. If the decision is for continuance, the candidate must agree to the conditions set by the faculty. Failure to adhere to these conditions may result in dismissal.

Appeal Policy

Dispositions Decision Appeal:

If a candidate is dismissed from the program or wishes to appeal a sanction after a disposition infraction is issued (see policy above) the candidate may file an appeal within 15 days of the disciplinary action. The candidate should use the following steps to appeal:

1. The candidate will notify the Program Coordinator that he/she wishes to appeal the recommended decision.

2. Candidate writes narrative about the incident and their appeal of the decision directly into the SOE Assessment System on their page in a text box (limited number of characters) and submits

3. This triggers an email to advising office/chair

4. The chair conducts an appeals meeting with the candidate

5. Chair goes to the Disposition Reports/Individual Report tab in their Main Menu, enters candidate ID number, and enters outcome and comments in the textbox.

6. Candidate logs in to their page to see the outcome. If the candidate does not intend to appeal further, he/she clicks submit to indicate he/she has read the information and the student’s signature is recorded in the assessment system.

7. If the candidate wishes to appeal further, he/she should notify the Chair of Teacher Education who will then send all documentation to the Graduate School Dean.
Appeal of an academic misconduct disciplinary action:

If the appeal is related to academic misconduct (plagiarism, and/or other academic misconduct) the appeal process will be done first through MyOleMiss and not the SOE Assessment System. Faculty must log the event into MyOleMiss under “Academic Discipline.” The process will then follow the University’s policy for appeal, detailed in the M-Book. A copy of the M-Book: The University of Mississippi Handbook of Standards and Activities may be obtained from the Office of the Dean of Students or can be found on the web at:

* If an academic misconduct appeal fails to clear the student of all sanctions (through following the M-Book policy) or the student does not appeal, faculty in Teacher Education may submit a disposition infraction for the incident so that it is recorded in the SOE Assessment System.

Grade Appeal:

Any grade appeal will follow the policy outlined in the M-Book.

University Policy Directory

https://secure4.olemiss.edu/umpolicyopen/index.jsp.

The University of Mississippi Policy Directory is a collection of policies governing the University. The policies listed in the University of Mississippi Policy Directory are official and subject to change at any time. Each policy is distinguished by a code made up of two sets of letters and two sets of numbers. The first three letters distinguish the University division; for example, DSA stands for Division of Student Affairs and ADM stands for Administration and Finance. The second set of letters represents the department area within that division. For example, DS represent the Office of the Dean of Students, and FA represents Financial Aid. The two sets of numbers represent the individual policies within that department or area. When one sees the policy DSA.DS.400.001, the division responsible for the policy is the Division of Student Affairs, the department responsible for the policy is the Dean of Students, and 400.001 outlines the University policy regarding the official Recognition of Student Organizations.

Use this handbook and the M-Book as a guide, but be sure to check the Policy Directory for all current and updated policies at the University of Mississippi.
The Graduate Catalog

This important publication has been mentioned several times throughout the handbook. Candidates are advised to obtain a copy and become familiar with the policies that affect their programs. The catalog is published each year and it becomes the candidate’s responsibility to be aware of information necessary for the timely completion of a graduate degree. The notice of admission to Graduate School indicates the particular catalog (year) for each candidate. The Graduate Catalog may be found on the Graduate School Website.

Funding Opportunities for Graduate Candidates

Candidates are urged to check with the Graduate School, The Office of Research and Sponsored Programs, and the Teacher Education office in the School of Education for information and applications regarding scholarships and fellowships. Other sources of financial support can be found on the Graduate School web page. For example, some organizations and publishers will provide financial assistance to candidates conducting research in specific areas. Since such funding opportunities change often, periodic checks are suggested. Candidates who have presentations accepted at professional meetings are eligible to apply for travel assistance from the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs.

Graduate Programs in Teacher Education

The teacher education programs prepare professionals in four areas.

- Early Childhood Education
- Elementary Education
- Secondary Education - content areas:
  - English,
  - Mathematics,
  - Science (Biology, Chemistry, Physics), and
  - Social Studies
- Special Education

Master of Education (M.Ed.)

M.Ed. graduates are prepared to exhibit extensive mastery, depth, and sophistication in their coursework and in their classrooms. They are aware of current and emerging research and its implications for classroom practice. As a result of their classroom experiences, interactions with colleagues and faculty, and continued study, they think reflectively about classroom practice and ways to enhance it.

The M.Ed. programs enhance excellence in teaching by encouraging individual growth and application of research-based techniques and emerging theory in the classroom. In addition, these programs build on basic-level preparation that teachers have received and require more in-depth study, reading, research, and sharing with classmates in a professional, collegial, and academic setting.

M.Ed. candidates complete a 30-hour program in early childhood education, elementary, secondary, and special education; 45 clock hours of field-based learning opportunities; and successful completion of a graduate capstone project. Each program includes three foundation courses (9 hours): EDCI 603: Measurement and Evaluation for the Classroom Teacher, EDCI 601: Advanced Curriculum & Theory, and EDRS 605: Educational Research. The Early Childhood Education program has two tracks: Track 1 (licensure) and Track 2 (non-licensure). Track options are decided upon admission to the program.

The Elementary Education program emphasizes 15 hours in a language arts/reading or math/science focus.

The Special Education program includes 15 concentrated hours in the Special Education area.

The Secondary Education program includes two (2) options. Option 1: fifteen (15) hours of education courses and six (6) hours of courses in the content area. Option 2: one three (3) hour course in Advanced Teaching Methods and eighteen (18) hours of courses in the content area.

Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT)

The Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) is a 36-hour alternate certification program for candidates who currently hold a bachelor's degree in a field other than education. The MAT program focuses on the pedagogical content knowledge and skills needed for secondary instruction. Included in the program is an internship to give the candidate first hand experiences in the 7–12 classroom. MAT candidates may apply for certification in English, math, science (biology, chemistry, physics) or social studies. Please see the MAT website for current information.

Mississippi Teacher Corps (MTC)

The Mississippi Teacher Corps (MTC) leads to a Master of Arts in Teaching and is a 36-hour alternate certification program for candidates who currently hold a bachelor’s degree in a field other than education. The MTC program focuses on the pedagogical content knowledge and skills needed for secondary instruction. Students in the MTC teach for two years in a high need district in Mississippi while earning their masters. MTC candidates may apply for certification in English, math, science (biology, chemistry or physics) or social studies. Please see the MTC website for current information.

Education Specialist (Ed.S.)

Ed.S. graduates exemplify the highest standards of teaching and serve as mentors to others in their fields. They apply personal and systematic reflection to all aspects of professional growth and development. They possess extended knowledge of research as it applies to the classroom setting and they are able to utilize technology and research in order to improve their classrooms and schools through acquiring grants, focused inquiry, and reflective practice.

Ed.S. candidates must complete 60 hours of graduate study beyond the bachelor's degree (30 hours above the M. Ed.). The Ed.S. degree offers candidates a program with emphasis in elementary, secondary, or special education and is intended for candidates who wish to earn a post-master's graduate degree that leads to an AAA certification. All Ed.S. candidates complete a manuscript for submission to a peer-reviewed periodical, make a presentation to a professional group, and complete 65 clock hours of field-based learning opportunities.
Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) or Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.)

Doctoral graduates are prepared to be educational leaders. Many assume positions at Universities as teacher educators, curriculum directors, state department of education personnel, or leaders in other educational settings. Many of them also add educational leadership courses to their program and assume administrative roles in the school. A few doctoral graduates choose to remain in their classrooms serving as leaders and mentors for their colleagues. Doctoral level graduates generate, utilize, and apply research and theory in curriculum development and communicate ideas with other professionals in the field.

Doctoral degree graduates complete a program of study that requires a minimum of 99 graduate hours of coursework post bachelors, which includes 18 hours of dissertation. A minimum of 30 hours above the M.Ed. degree must be taken at The University of Mississippi. These hours do not include dissertation hours. In addition, the graduate must successfully complete and orally defend a dissertation representing independent and original research. Each doctoral graduate will complete 75 clock hours of field-based learning opportunities and successfully complete a written comprehensive examination.

The Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Education with an emphasis in special education is sixty-nine (69) hours above the master’s degree. Candidates in the program acquire deeper and broader skills and knowledge of the field of special education. Doctoral level classes emphasize current research-based theories and practice. This program is a course of study designed to prepare its graduates for Higher Education academic positions at research institutions.

Emotional Disability Certificate

The EmD (emotional disability) certificate program in special education specializing in emotional and behavioral disorders prepares teachers to be interventionist in the field of Emotional Behavior Disorders in order to address the needs of individuals with EmD rulings.

The program philosophy focuses on meeting the needs of individual students who have emotional and behavioral disorders. Upon completion of the program, teachers are prepared to assess, analyze and problem solve the challenges of learning for students with emotional & behavioral disorders and their families, focusing on the objective of providing effective teaching practices, behavioral supports, and instructional strategies.

Gifted Certificate

The Gifted Endorsement is designed to prepare educators with the knowledge base and competencies necessary for the appropriate education of gifted and talented learners. These 12 credit hours are necessary for the Mississippi Supplementary Endorsement in Gifted Education. Students pursuing certification in other states must check with their State Department of Education for certification requirements.

Transfer of Graduate Credit from another Institution

Candidates may receive credit for work accomplished in recognized institutions upon the recommendation of the Department of Teacher Education and the approval of the dean of the Graduate School. Candidates may only transfer courses in which a "B" or higher has been earned. Transfer of credit from another institution will not be accepted for workshops, internships, correspondence courses and other courses of a similar nature, and for courses in which regular letter grades are not awarded. All transfer of credit is subject to the following conditions:

- The residence or degree credit requirement is not reduced;
- Students in the Masters programs must complete a GS3 form (found on the Graduate School Website);
- The other graduate school must offer a graduate degree in the field in which the work has been completed;
- The candidate must have completed at least 12 semester hours of acceptable graduate course work at the university before transfer will be considered;
- The credit must be recommended by the candidate’s department in the university as specifically applicable to the candidate’s degree program;
- In the field of education, transfer credits will only be accepted from a graduate school that is accredited for graduate study by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education and by the regional accrediting association;

There is a six-year time limit on the applicability of transferred credit.

For M.Ed. degree candidates, a maximum of six (6) hours of credit may be transferred. For Ed.S. degree candidates, no more than 12 hours may be transferred. For M.Ed. degree candidates that have already received one M.Ed. degree; not more than six (6) hours, subject to departmental approval, may be applied from a previous M.Ed. degree to a second M.Ed. degree.

Academic Planning

Program Planning and Registration for Classes

Each candidate is assigned a faculty advisor at the time of admission who will assist in writing a program plan prior to or during the first registration period. In addition to an advisor, the doctoral candidate will be assigned a dissertation committee following acceptance of the candidate’s Concept Paper by a faculty team. Program plans are flexible and advisors may be amenable to change.
Following receipt of admissions notification, each candidate should contact his/her designated faculty advisor to schedule an appointment to plan the program of study. In addition, each candidate is required to meet with or contact his/her designated faculty advisors at least once each semester. This usually takes place during priority registration periods as noted in the University calendar. Under no conditions should a candidate register for classes or change approved classes listed on the Program Sheet checklist without prior advisor approval.

Doctoral Dissertation

All doctoral candidates must adhere to the program and Graduate School requirements for conducting independent research that results in the writing of the doctoral dissertation. Important information regarding this procedure is detailed in the Graduate Catalog. The Graduate School will also provide the candidates with a useful publication, A Manual for Theses and Dissertations.

Registration for a minimum of 18 credit hours of dissertation is required, and the candidate must be registered for a minimum of three hours during the semester of the defense.

Candidates are expected to follow procedures found in the current APA manual for publication and the APA guide for writing dissertation and theses. Your designated faculty advisor will provide you with additional information about requirements.

Time Limits for Completion of Degrees

The Graduate Catalog contains information regarding time limits for degree completion. Currently, a M.Ed. and/or Ed.S. degree must be completed within six years from the date of enrollment in the first course that is counted towards fulfillment of the requirements of the degree. For doctoral degrees, all required formal course work and passing the comprehensive exam must be completed within four calendar years of initial enrollment. After passing the comprehensive exam, a student becomes a candidate for the doctoral degree and must complete all remaining requirements within five calendar years. Once advanced to candidacy, doctoral candidates should be aware of the Graduate School’s policy concerning continuous enrollment.)

Dissertation Review Process

There must be at least one full semester between submission of the prospectus and the semester in which the final dissertation defense is scheduled.

A written dissertation prospectus will be required of every doctoral student.

An oral defense of the prospectus will be required.

The student with his/her will select a committee to evaluate the merit of the prospectus. This committee will also serve as the dissertation committee.

The committee should consist of at least four (4) members. One member, nominated by the dissertation chairperson, will be external to the discipline. All members of the committee shall have equal voting rights.

See policy #10000386 for more details.

A single negative vote in the committee, on the prospectus, will require negotiation among the members in order to achieve reconciliation of the point(s) of objection.

Only if the committee cannot agree on the merits of the prospectus and, through reasoned discussion, cannot accept the prospectus unanimously, a review by a committee of the department/school will be invoked.

Although a unanimous vote of the committee is necessary in order to accept the prospectus, a majority vote only will be required on the final dissertation defense.

An approved copy of the prospectus will be filed with the Graduate School immediately following the defense.

Any research involving human subjects must be approved by the Institutional Review Board (IRB). To determine if this provision applies to you, please visit their website at http://www.research.olemiss.edu/cms/compliance/IRB or call the IRB office at 662-915-3929.

Any research involving animal subjects must be approved by the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC). To determine if this provision applies to you, please visit their website at http://www.research.olemiss.edu/cms/toolbox/manuals or call the IACUC office at 662-915-3929.

When any member of the committee believes that a substantial change in the research plan has been made, the committee will be reconvened. Unanimous approval of any substantial revision is required. A report of substantial changes will be filed in the Graduate School.

Any committee member who does not sign the final dissertation must file an objection with the Graduate School.
Appendix D – Graduate Field Experience

For all programs except a Ph.D. in Special Education
The purpose of this field experience log is to help you develop as an educator, as a scholar, and as a steward of the profession. The experiences should be carefully selected (with your advisor) to help you meet your post-graduation goals.

As a requirement for an advanced degree in the Department of Teacher Education, candidates must complete specified hours (45 for Masters, 65 for Specialist, 75 for Doctorate) of field experience to be selected from the experiences described below. All hours must be earned during program enrollment. Candidates in specific degree programs are required to complete certain field experiences that are noted on the Field Experience Cover Sheet and in the descriptions of the experiences.
Field Experience Log Instructions

Schedule a meeting with your advisor

During your advisor meeting, jointly select experiences that will best prepare you for your post-graduation goals and help you develop as an educator, scholar and steward of the profession. Keep in mind the experiences that are required for certain degree programs and the required experiences for all programs. These selections should be identified on your Field Experience Log Cover Sheet with your advisor’s initials. Experiences may be repeated once (with the exception of Experience 8 and 9) if they are approved by the advisor and aligned with the graduate candidate’s post-graduation goal.

During your advisor meeting, jointly select diverse settings for the required experiences that will best prepare you for your post-graduation goals. These settings will be selected from the list of partner-schools the Department of Teacher Education has assembled*. Each experience must be in a distinct setting that represents diversity from your current teaching context. One experience can be from within your own school/district. These selections should be identified on your Field Experience Log Cover Sheet and initialed by your advisor.

During your advisor meeting, create a draft schedule for completing each jointly-selected field experience, and dates for checking in on progress of finishing those experiences.

Have the experience:

Read the description of each field experience to help you understand the intent of the experience.

If you do not understand how the experience will help you grow as an educator, scholar, and/or steward of the profession, meet with your advisor to clarify the intent of the experience or jointly select a different experience.

Complete the experience:

Select an artifact that reflects your experience (suggestions will accompany the description of each experience). This artifact should represent your growth as an educator, scholar, and/or steward of the profession.

Complete a Field Experience Entry Form (electronically generated, with professional font) for each field experience artifact. Each Field Experience Entry Form will contain the following: Description of Context: Describe the context of the experience and justify how it is a diverse setting (if applicable), and how it was meaningfully selected with the advisor.
Reflection: Describe why the experience and the representative artifact is important to your own development as an educator, scholar, and/or steward of the profession.

Justification: Describe the impact the experience will have on the learning of P-12 students. Schedule a meeting with your advisor to check your progress by the jointly agreed upon schedule.

Deliver the Field Experience Log

Schedule a meeting with your advisor

Assemble the Field Experience Log Cover Sheet, Artifacts, and Field Experience Entry Forms into a single package.

Present the Field Experience Log to your advisor for approval and completion signature. Deliver the signed Field Experience Log Cover Sheet to the Graduate Activities Specialist.

*Identified “partner-schools” are the result of the University of Mississippi School of Education Department of Teacher Education collaborating with school districts to identify potential field experience sites that will be beneficial to the development of graduate candidates from the Department of Teacher Education.

Field Experience Log Completion:

Advisor Signature __________________________Date:_________________________
Required experiences in distinct diverse settings

Each of the experiences below must be completed by all graduate candidates in separate diverse settings. Each experience must be in a setting that represents diversity from your current educator context.

Diversity is defined by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) as "Differences among groups of people and individuals based on ethnicity, race, socioeconomic status, gender, exceptionalities, language, religion, sexual orientation, and geographical area" (p.86). This definition may help graduate candidates in jointly selecting, with their advisor, diverse settings that aid their development as an educator, scholar, and steward of the profession.

1. Visit a school (5 hours)
Visit a “diverse school site” outside your school district that you jointly select with your advisor from the list of partner schools supplied by the Department of Teacher Education. Spend at least 5 hours at the site. Make observations regarding the diversity at the site, including teachers, students, staff and scheduling. Compare and contrast the school site with your own school site, considering the curriculum and instructional practices, demographics, special programs, and classroom environment (teacher and student behaviors) observed at the site. You may also describe how this experience impacts your role as a teacher. Submit your paper to your advisor for review and place in your field experiences notebook.

Artifacts: Notes from observation and paper CF= Advocates for Diverse Learners

2. Observe and evaluate a NBPTS teacher (5 hours)
Observe one entire class period within a “diverse school site” that you jointly select with your advisor from the list of partner schools supplied by the Department of Teacher Education. Evaluate the lesson taught by a National Board for Professional Teaching Standards certified teacher and have a conversation with the teacher around your evaluation. Consider the perceived effectiveness of the lesson and connect techniques used to effective teaching practices. Use a teacher evaluation instrument (TIAI or M-STAAR) to guide your evaluation, including comments on the indicators. Have the NBPTS teacher sign and date the evaluation. Based on your observations, written evaluation, and conversation with the NBPTS teacher, describe in a two- to three-page double spaced paper how this experience will enhance your own instruction/practice. Submit your paper to your advisor for review and place in your field experiences notebook.

Artifacts: Evaluation instrument, notes from post observation conversation, and paper CF=Lifelong Learners

3. Observe and evaluate a teacher candidate (5 hours).
Observe a teacher candidate during the student teaching experience in your content area or grade level. Complete this task in a “diverse school site” that you jointly select with your advisor from the list of partner schools supplied by the Department of Teacher Education. Observe one lesson and have a conversation with the teacher candidate around your evaluation. Use a teacher evaluation instrument (TIAI or M-STAAR) to guide your evaluation, including comments on the indicators. Have the teacher candidate sign and date the evaluation. In a two- to three-page reflective paper, consider how this experience has affected your perception of the importance of clinical instructors in undergraduate student teaching experiences. Also consider the effectiveness of the lesson and connect techniques used to effective teaching practices.

Artifacts: Evaluation instrument, notes from post observation conversation, and paper
CF=Lifelong Learners, Problem Solvers, Effective Communicators
Additional experiences

Present...

Staff development (5 hours)
Prepare and present a staff development session that will be of benefit to the faculty/staff in your school or work setting. The participants of the staff development session and your immediate supervisor should evaluate the session using an evaluation form that you develop. These evaluations should be analyzed for the strengths and weaknesses of the presentation.

Guest lecture in a graduate level course (5 hours)
Prepare and present a guest lecture for a class in which you are not enrolled. Your presentation should reflect your own experiences and expertise.

State, regional or national conference (5 hours)
Propose, prepare, and present a talk, paper, poster, or workshop at a state, regional, or national conference. Consider how the experience helped you develop as an educator, scholar, and/or steward of the profession.

Attend...

State, regional or national conference (5 hours)
Attend a state, regional, or national conference. Take notes on each seminar/workshop attended. Summarize how you will use this information in your classroom to enhance student learning.

School Board Meeting (5 hours)
Attend a School Board meeting where issues that concern you will be discussed/debated. Consider how your attendance helped you meet your post-graduation goals and affected your perception of educational administration. Take notes during the experience. Consider the implications for you as a classroom teacher. (Maximum 1 meeting may be submitted for credit.)
Education-related court/legislative session (5 hours)
Attend a court or legislative session where issues related to your classroom context are being discussed/debated. Take notes during the experience. Consider how the experience has affected your understanding and feelings about legal/legislative issues related to education and educational policy.

Grant proposal (5 hours)
Write and submit a grant proposal for funding for an educational institution or project. Consider the impact on student learning or potential impact on student learning.

Curriculum based on experience (5 hours)
Based on a cultural or academic activity in which you participated, develop a lesson plan for a class you teach or for a grade level you plan to teach. Videotape or have another teacher evaluate the lesson as you teach it to a class. Evaluate your own lesson and consider the strengths and weaknesses of the lesson and how you will improve the lesson for future use. Use a teacher evaluation instrument (TIAI or M-STAAR) to guide the evaluation of your lesson.

Suggested activities may include:
- Attendance at a play or live theatre event (e.g., Phantom of the Opera);
- Touring a research center (e.g., National Center for Acoustics);
- Touring an industrial complex (e.g., Nissan);

The purpose of a Program Committee is to provide critical input and guidance as the candidate plans to enter the dissertation phase of the doctoral program. Candidates must develop a concept paper consisting of approximately 3-5 pages outlining the problem statement, potential questions, and a rationale supported by a brief literature review to share with potential committee members. The purpose of the concept paper is to gain committee support for a topic selected by a doctoral candidate and it should indicate that the student has researched the topic before development of a concept. Once the student receives the signatures, the concept paper and this completed agreement should be submitted to the Committee Chair.
