Master of Education (M.Ed.) in Clinical Mental Health Counseling at The University of Mississippi

Program Description
Clinical mental health counselors work with individuals, families, and other groups to treat mental and emotional disorders and to promote mental health. Clinical mental health counselors are trained to assist individuals dealing with a variety of concerns including career goals, wellness issues, depression, addiction and substance abuse, suicidal impulses, stress, grief, and problems with self-esteem.

The objective of the Master of Education in professional counseling curriculum is to prepare students to be professional counselors. The counselor education faculty believes that the development of a strong professional identity, rich knowledge base, and expertise in the skills of counseling are essential to becoming a professional counselor. A priority for the program is to serve the people of Mississippi by providing highly qualified counselors. Our program is 60 hours and includes experiential components including a 100-hour practicum and 600-hour internship. The program is accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP).

Career Opportunities
The clinical mental health counseling track qualifies graduates to work in a wide variety of mental health settings including inpatient, outpatient, and private practice. Graduates may choose to work with a specialized population such as children, adolescents, couples, or families.

Online/Regional Campus Options
The program is available to students at the Oxford campus and the Tupelo regional campus.
